Gambian ambassador to the United States.

For no clear reason at the moment, Jammeh has sacked the ambassador who happens to be one of those who have publicly requested him to step down.

Recall that Jammeh to the amazement of all granted a concession speech only to change his mind afterwards.

Many African Heads of state have called out to the West African president requesting him to peacefully accept his loss in the last general elections.

Jammeh has slammed and rebuffed the call from the UN, AU and ECOWAS to submit to the rule of law.

The recalled ambassador has currently amended his social media profile details to "Former Ambassador".

December 19, 2016.

I would like to inform my friends, colleagues, and all Gambians that I have been recalled for home service. I will handover in line with Foreign Service Regulations (FSR). At the same time, I hope and pray H.E President Yahya Jammeh will likewise handover to President Elect Adama Barrow and respect the will of the people of The Gambia and the constitution.

I thank H.E President Jammeh for the opportunity he has given me to serve our country in the United States of America. I also thank all Gambians who have supported, prayed, and helped me in my official duties.

I am hereby reminding all Gambian officials, civil servants, and military personnel they are serving the people of The Gambia and MUST protect its security, peace, and prosperity. We should all work together to ensure that the peace our beloved country is known for is not compromised. The Gambian people, its history, and above all God, the Almighty will judge us. Let us all side with justice and the will of our people.

On January 19, 2017, God Willing, Mr. Adama Barrow will become the third President of The Republic of The Gambia and we all should rally behind him for the benefit of our beloved country. We should all forget personal ambitions and strive towards maintaining the peace and social cohesion of our beloved country.

As a former military officer, I was taught loyalty to country FIRST. I hope the armed and security forces will uphold the WILL of The Gambian people made on December 1, 2016. The current Chief of Defense Staff (CDS), Lieutenant General Ousman Barjie, the Deputy-Chief of Defense Staff General Yankuba Drammeh, and several active and retired officers who served with me both in Yundum and Kudang camps can bear witness to the patriotism of our forces.

I hope the Gambian Armed and Security Forces will do the right thing by standing with the People of The Gambia, maintain peace, and prevent any usurpation of power. They owe that to the people of The Gambia, to history, and to God, The Almighty.

May God, The Almighty Continue to Guide, Protect, and Help our beloved Country.

Another proof of his sack is an official letter-headed document from Faye stating his vacation of office.

"I would like to inform my friends, colleagues and all Gambians that I have been recalled for home services. I will handover in line with Foreign Service Regulations (FSR)."

"At the same time, I hope and pray HE President Yahya Jammeh will likewise handover to President Elect Adama Barrow and respect the will of the people of The Gambia and the Constitution."

"We should all work together to ensure that the peace our beloved country is known for is not compromised. The Gambian people, its history and above all God, the Almighty will judge us. Let us all side with justice and the will of our people"

Sheikh Omar Faye thanked the supposed outgoing president for the opportunity to serve Gambia. He concluded by urging civil servants and the military forces of Gambia especially, to stick to the side of patriotism and peace.
